TIGER WOODS' SPEECH AT THE INAUGURATION:

Tiger Woods received a special invitation to speak at the President's inauguration. Those who had invited him were stunned and were not pleased with what he had to say, because he did not say what they expected. Instead he spoke about his Special Forces father and those in uniform. If you didn't know this about Tiger Woods, it is because the news media almost totally ignored him.

"You'll Never Walk Alone"

"I grew up in a military family - and my role models in life were my Mom and Dad, and Lt. Col. Earl Woods. My dad was a Special Forces operator and many nights his friends would visit our home. They represented every branch of the service and every rank. In my Dad, and in those guests, I saw first hand the dedication and commitment of those who serve. They come from every walk of life. From every part of our country. Time and again, across generations, they have defended our safety in the dark of night and far from home. Each day - and particularly on this historic day - we honor the men and women in uniform who serve our country and protect our freedom. They travel to the dangerous corners of the world, and we must remember that for every person who is in uniform, there are families who wait for them to come home safely. I am honored that the military is such an important part, not just of my personal life, but of my professional one as well. The golf tournament we do each year here in Washington is a testament to those unsung heroes. I am the son of a man who dedicated his life to his country, family and the military, and I am a better person for it.

In the summer of 1864, Abraham Lincoln, the man at whose memorial we stand, spoke to the 164th Ohio Regiment and said: 'I am greatly obliged to you, and to all who have come forward at the call of their country. "Just as they have stood tall for our country - we must always stand by and support the men and women in uniform and their families."

I personally thank God for people like Tiger Woods, who represent people who live by the principles expressed in traditional conservative values that were passed on to them by their patriotic parents. What are the values by which you live your life? Do they guide your thoughts, words, and actions? Very soon, we will be reaching the point of no return in the direction our country will go. What values will you use to determine the course of our country? And what are you doing about it now?
